High School Art Students win big

Five of our High School students recently competed in a County-wide poster Competition.

Students were challenged to come up with a poster illustrating the theme, United for a Drug Free World.

Our students competed against approximately 30 other students from around this area in this challenge.

Two of them were named winners. Nick Cook was named 11th and 12th grade winner and was awarded several gift certificates during an assembly held for Red Ribbon Week.

Shayla Crawford was also honored as the 9th and 10th grade division winner. She was also given several gift certificates at the same assembly.

Last year Jessica Depoe won the overall competition and now has her design on the billboard on Highway 69 just west of the football field.

Many of our art students receive high honors in competitions every year. Mrs. Parcell is to be congratulated on her efforts to produce quality artist.

Art is always on display in the main building of the High School.

Band takes top honors

Commerce High School band has already participated in two different parades this season.

They were in the NEO homecoming and the Pittsburg State Homecoming Parade.

Band members received a #1 Superior rating at the Pittsburg Homecoming Parade, placing them first in their division.

ACT Test Prep

The seniors have all taken the practice ACT test available in the computer lab. This is a great experience for helping predict scores.

The Junior class will begin taking the same exam on Tuesday, November 11. This will help student prepare for the taking of actual test.

STUCO

Some STUCO members spent this past weekend in Tulsa for the annual convention.

Members get a chance to go to the convention only one time during their High School years.

Students stay with host families during the convention to gain a knowledge of other families across the state. This is a great experience for our student.

This years convention was held in Tulsa.

Cook and Crawford take honors.

Band to perform in the Christmas Parades on December 6, 2003.

Come out for our first playoff game this

Friday night at 7:30.
